

OXFORD, Dec. 31. Last week, about the same time that the earthquake was felt at Worcester, Gloucester, and in different parts of those counties, they were alarmed by a little shock at Shipston upon Stour; where the buildings were so much agitated that many doors flew open, and the furniture in the upper rooms were so much put in motion, as to be heard quite from the top to the bottom of the house: The consternation was as great as it was sudden, and the whole occasioned a very uncommon rumbling noise: Yet tho' this place was so sensibly affected, in some of the neighbouring towns, but a few miles distant, it was not felt.
